Dear Parents, Faculty & Staff:

As you are aware, public health officials are currently dealing with an outbreak of Swine Flu in several U.S. cities including approximately 10 confirmed cases of students from a parochial high school in Queens.

There are currently no confirmed cases of Swine Flu in Orange or Rockland Counties.

Fortunately, most individuals who contract the disease fully recover, while for a few it can be extremely dangerous.

Please use this outbreak as an opportunity to be reminded of the everyday precautions we should all take in our daily lives.

- If you're sick – stay home. If your children are sick – keep them home.
- Wash hands frequently with soap and water or alcohol-based hand cleansers.
- Cover your sneeze or cough.
- Clean shared items often (telephones, keyboards, door knobs, etc.)

These simple suggestions and information about Swine Flu are available on the school district's website (www.tuxedoschooldistrict.com), click on the "Ready or Not" button (upper left) and look under Topics of Interest.

Please be assured that the Tuxedo School District considers the health and safety of its students, faculty and staff to be our number one priority and ask for your help in maintaining a healthy and safe environment for everyone.

Sincerely,

Joseph P. Zanetti
Superintendent of Schools
